Mechanical Contractors Association of America, Inc.

The Mechanical Contractors Association of America, Inc. Student Chapter is an exciting association new to the Engineering Department at Cal Poly Pomona. MCAA serves the unique needs of more than 2,000 firms involved in heating, air conditioning, refrigeration, plumbing, piping, and mechanical service. They provide members with high-quality educational materials and programs to help them attain the highest level of managerial and technical expertise. MCAA includes the Mechanical Service Contractors of America, the National Certified Pipe Welding Bureau, and the Plumbing Contractors of America.

MCAA Student Chapter can offer students many great opportunities and experiences. We are looking for students who want to get the most out of their college career by getting involved with Industry and meeting new people. Here are some of the benefits of joining.

- Industry Experiences/Networking
- Internship Program
- Professional Industry Mentor Program
- Scholarships
- Student Networking
- Project Management Experience

How to Join

We welcome and encourage all Engineering Major Students to join MCAA.
